The Calchaqui Valley, Salta, lies in the northwestern region of Argentina in the eastern foothills of the Andes Mountains, 1800 meters above sea level. The high altitude provides a unique growing climate for the vineyards, with temperatures low at night and great exposure to the sun throughout each day. With a dry climate too, these conditions allow the grapes to mature slowly, giving the wine an exceptionally concentrated flavor. With perfect ripeness of the grapes, this translates into delicious concentration of soft tannins.

Desafío 2007 is a blend of 95% Malbec and 5% Tannat. The supple sweet tannins with luscious plum and leather notes of the Malbec are balanced with the spice of the Tannat, adding a touch of complexity and firmness. Sediments may be present in this unfiltered and unfined wine.
